Keeping up with the Joneses has a unique meaning in the town of Lexington, especially when you consider Ray and Mary Anne Jones, the owners of Absolute Glass Inc. at 1612 West Main Street. For seven years, the Joneses have been at the "head of the glass" in Lexington. Ray was working for a large corporation and was constantly faced with potential downsizing and layoffs. He and Mary Anne decided that the time was right to venture off and start their own business. They both believed it was a "chance worth taking," says Mary Anne. The timing of the new venture was just right as Ray's management refused to let him work out his two week notice. He started working the very next day for himself, and Absolute Glass was born. For the first nine months, Ray answered the phones and did all of the installation work himself. In their first year of operation, Absolute Glass Inc. changed locations to expand their services into a bigger facility. He and Mary Anne decided that it was time to hire some help, and Mary Anne left her job at Lexington County to join her husband at Absolute Glass Inc.

Absolute Glass Inc. has been in their present location for five years. The location they are currently in has been a glass shop for over 35 years and the repeat customers love when they come back to the same shop for all of their glass needs. Absolute Glass Inc. serves a variety of customers. Most of their business comes from repeat customers or referrals from high end automobile dealers such as BMW, Acura, Land Rover, Lexus, Mercedes, Porsche, or Volvo. Mary Anne and Ray feel that their customers, "Don't want just anybody," working on their automobiles. Ray has established a solid reputation with automobile dealers throughout the region. In the last year, Absolute Glass Inc. updated their website to make it even more user-friendly. Customers can file claims online, even on the weekends, and have their insurance companies direct billed. Visit the website at www.absoluteglassinc.com.

Automobiles are only one area of Absolute Glass Inc.'s expertise. They also deal in mirrors, replacement windows, shower doors, table tops, and window tinting. "We believe in 100 percent customer satisfaction," according to Mary Anne. "We want to get the job done right the first time." She adds that Absolute Glass Inc, being members of the Lexington Chamber of Commerce, encourage their customers to, "Shop local, shop Lexington, and when you think of glass, think of Absolute Glass Inc."
